The background is a dark purple gradient. It features several abstract elements: two large, glowing, organic shapes in shades of blue and purple, one in the upper left and one in the lower left. These shapes have a textured, almost crystalline appearance. There are also three smaller, smooth, glowing spheres in a similar color palette, located in the upper right, lower left, and lower right. Hexagonal patterns, resembling molecular structures or honeycombs, are visible in the top left and bottom right corners. Small white 'x' marks are scattered throughout the composition, including one near the top center, one near the middle left, and one near the bottom right.
